2. What data do we use and where do we get it from?

We process personal data that we have received from you / your employees as an interested party, customer or contractual partner. On the other hand, we may also process personal data that we have legitimately been permitted to receive and process from publicly available sources (such as trade and association registers, press, media, Internet).

Relevant personal data may be:

Name, address and other contact details (telephone, fax, e-mail address), date of birth, tax ID, bank details.

3. For what purpose do we process your data and on what legal basis?

We process the above-mentioned personal data in accordance with the provisions of the GDPR and the Federal Data Protection Act (BDSG):

a.) For the fulfillment of contractual obligations (Article 6 (1) (b) GDPR)

The processing of personal data takes place within the framework of the execution of the contracts concluded with you or for the implementation of pre-contractual measures. The details of the purpose of the data processing can be found in the respective contract documents and the terms and conditions.

b.) In the context of an application procedure (Art. 88 in conjunction with § 26 BDSG-new)

The processing of personal data as part of the application process takes place to the extent necessary for the decision on the establishment of an employment relationship with us.

c.) Based on legal requirements (Art. 6 para. 1 e GDPR)

Insofar as statutory regulations, such as social security, commercial or tax regulations, require processing, we process your data in accordance with these statutory requirements.

d.) In the context of balancing of interests (Art. 6 para. 1 f GDPR)

To the extent necessary, we process your data beyond the actual performance of the contract in order to safeguard legitimate interests of us or third parties, e. g.:

- to assert legal claims and defend legal disputes
- to ensure the IT security and IT operation of our company
- to prevent crime
- Video surveillance to safeguard our right to home, to collect evidence in case of damage and unauthorized access
- Measures for building and plant security as well as in the context of food defense (e. g. access controls)
- Measures to safeguard our right to home

e.) Based on your consent (Art. 6 para. 1a GDPR)

If you have given us your consent to the processing of personal data for certain purposes (e. g. advertising), the lawfulness of such processing is based on your consent. A given consent may be revoked at any time. This also applies to the revocation of declarations of consent that were issued before the GDPR came into force, i. e. before 25. 05. 2018. Please note that the revocation only applies for the future and processing is not affected until then.

4. Who receives your data?

Within our company, the departments / departments / employees have access to your data, which they need to fulfill our contractual and legal obligations. Our service providers and vicarious agents may also receive data for this purpose if they comply with our written data protection directives and act in compliance with data protection laws. We will only disclose information about you if this is stipulated by law, if you have consented to it and / or if commissioned commissioners guarantee compliance with our instructions and the provisions of the GDPR and the BDSG.

5. Are data transmitted to a third country or to an international organization?

A transfer to places outside the EU or the EEA (so-called third countries) will only take place if this is necessary for the execution of existing contracts with you or required by law (e. g. due to tax reporting obligations), you have given us your consent or in the context of order data processing. In addition, the transfer of your personal data outside the EEA will only take place if an adequate level of data protection has been confirmed by the EU Commission or if other adequate data protection guarantees (e. g. binding in-house data protection regulations or EU standard contractual clauses) are in place.

6. How long will your data be stored?

The criterion for the duration of the storage of personal data is the respective statutory retention period. After the deadline, the corresponding data will be routinely deleted, if they are no longer required to fulfill the contract or to initiate a contract.

7. What privacy rights do you have?

Each data subject has the right to information (Article 15 GDPR), the right to rectification (Article 16 GDPR), the right to cancellation (Article 17 GDPR), the right to restriction of processing (Article 18 GDPR), the right to object (Article 21 GDPR) and the right to data portability (Article 20 GDPR).

With regard to the right to information and the right to erase, the restrictions under §§ 34 and 35 BDSG apply. In addition, there is a right of appeal to a data protection supervisory authority (Article 77 DSGVO in conjunction with Section 19 BDSG): Data Protection Supervisory Authority Hamburg, The Hamburg Commissioner for Data Protection and Freedom of Information, Klosterwall 6 (Block C), 20095 Hamburg, Tel.

040 42854-4040, E-Mail: mailbox@datenschutz.hamburg.de

You may revoke your consent to the processing of personal data at any time. This also applies to the revocation of declarations of consent that were granted prior to the validity of the GDPR, so before 25.05.2018. Please note that the revocation only works for the future and processing is not affected until then.

8. Is there a duty for you to provide data?

As part of our business relationship, you must provide us with the personal information necessary for the performance of the contract and the related contractual or legal obligations. Without this data, we can reject the conclusion of a contract or the execution of the contract or terminate / cancel an existing contractual relationship.

Information about your right of objection according to Art. 21 GDPR

Case-specific right of objection

You have the right, at any time for reasons that arise from your particular situation, to object to the processing of personal data concerning you, which takes place pursuant to Art. 6 (1) f DSGVO (data processing based on a balance of interests).

Consequences of the contradiction

If you object, we will no longer process your personal information unless we can establish compelling legitimate grounds for processing that outweigh your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing is for the purposes of asserting, exercising or defending legal claims.

In what form and to whom is the objection to be addressed?

The objection can be made form-free to the contacts named under point 1.
